

The People's Press.

L. V. & E. T. BLUM,
PUBLISHERS AND PROPRIETORS.

TERMS:—CASH IN ADVANCE.

One Copy one year, $1.50
" " six months, 75
" " three " 40

VOL. XXX.

Devoted to Politics, Literature, Agriculture, the Markets and General Information.

SALEM, N. C., NOVEMBER 23, 1882.

NO. 47.

The People's Press.

State Library

JOB PRINTING

THE PRESS JOB DEPARTMENT

Is supplied with all necessary material, and is fully prepared to do work with

NEATNESS, DISPOSITION,

AND AT THE

VERY LOWEST PRICES

Be sure to give us a trial before contracting with anyone else.

In the Mining Town.

"Tis the last time, darling," he gently said, As he kissed her lips, like cherries red, While a fond look shone in his eyes of brown: 'My own is the prettiest girl in town; To-morrow the bell from the tower will ring A joyful psalm. Was there ever a king So truly blest on his royal throne, As I shall be, when I claim my own?"

Twas a fond farewell; 'twas a sweet good-bye;

But she watched him go, with a troubled sigh;

Se into the basket, that swayed and swung 'O'er the yawning abyss, he lightly sprang, And the joy of heart seemed turned to woe As they lowered him into the depths below. Her sweet young face, with its tresses brown, Was the fairest face in the mining town.

Lo! the morning came; but the marriage bell High up in the tower, rang a mournful knell For the true heart buried 'neath earth and stone,

Fair down in the heart of the mine—alone. A sorrow-peal on her wedding day, For the breaking heart, and the heart of clay;

And the face that looked from her tresses brown

Was the saddest face in the mining town.

This time rolled on in its weary way, Until fifty years with their shadows gray Had darkened the light of her sweet eyes' glow,

And had turned the brown of her hair to

Oil never a kiss from a husband's lips Or the clasp of a child's sweet finger-tips, Had lifted one moment the shadows brown From the saddest heart in the mining town.

Far down in the depths of the mine one day, In the loosened earth they were digging away They discovered a face, so young, so fair—From smiling lips to the bright-brown hair—

Untouched by the finger of time's decay. When they drew him up to the light of day, The wondering people gathered round To gaze at the man so strangely found.

Then a woman sprang from among the crowd,

With her long white hair, and her slight form.

Silently knelt by the form of clay,

And kissed the lips that were cold and gray.

Then the old face, with its snowy hair,

On his youthful bosom lay pillow'd there,

He had found her at last—his waiting bride;

And the people buried them side by side.

A Curious Disposition.

Three ladies were seated in Agatha Foster's parlor; Miss Fortescue, large, dark and of uncertain age, who monopolized the most comfortable arm-chair; Mrs. Becker, shrivelled and wrinkled, who sat in the slender, slightly off the sofa, and reinstating herself with a jerk, and Miss Agatha herself, who sat apart from the others, glancing uneasily out of the window, as if distressed by her garrulity. Miss Agatha was a fair young woman, with a noble head and a countenance expressive of all grace and goodness. Yet at this moment she entertained feelings decidedly hostile to her callers, who had run in, with the familiar freedom of fellow boarders in a family hotel, to chat away the afternoon. At heart they were immensely sorry that Miss Nannie Foster had not yet returned from a suburb, where she had gone the day before. Miss Nannie, Agatha's cousin, companion and playmate, was far more to these girls than was ever any other. She was more easily impressed, more sympathetic, they thought. She never sat looking out the window when they were retailing their choicest bits of scandal for her especial benefit. But then she was a woman of years. However, still she lingered; it was a pleasant place. The Fosters had the handsomest suite in the building—and furnished with such taste! Such carpets! Such decorative art! And the Fosters were tip-top people. There were four of them, Miss Agatha, her two bachelor brothers, ten and a dozen years her senior, and Miss Nannie, who, since her parent's death, had kept the children. The winter day drew to a close, the room grew dusky, and still the ladies lingered.

Agatha could endure it no longer; thus, of all days, she was without patience. She rose quickly.

"Ladies," she said, with an indignant quiver in her sweet contralto voice, "you must excuse me. I cannot listen to such conversation!"

There was silence a moment; then Miss Fortescue lifted her cumbrous frame. "Oh, certainly. Quite understand. We will withdraw. We do not wish to offend."

"Oh, certainly," faintly echoed Mrs. Becker, sliding from the sofa for the last time and preparing to follow.

Agatha's impatience only increased.

"And allow me to tell you she exclaimed, with no compensation, that I such ladies might be better employed than with those neighbors' affairs."

"Good-afternoon," said Miss Fortescue, savagely.

"Good-afternoon," sneered Mrs. Becker.

"Good riddance!" cried Agatha, sharply, ere the door had closed.

"To-day of all days," she said, as she walked to and fro in the dusk.

Presently the door opened.

"All in the dark, Agatha?" asked a cheery voice.

"Why, what is the matter, my dear?"

"I have just put Mrs. Fortescue and Mrs. Becker out of the room, and it has annoyed me."

"Dear me, what had they done?"

"The same old sickening gossip, Miss Bruce flirts on the street; Mrs. Gray holds her step-child to the fire to burn it, and so on and so on."

"They get their ideas from the morning papers," said Nannie, coolly, unclasping her fur-lined circular.

"The stepmother holding the child to the fire is a favorite paragraph when news is scarce. Sometimes she heats the iron—"

"What is there against him?" she asked, unflinchingly. She was not blind to her lover's bodily imperfections.

"She had lost all weight, and the rain was but a pale, lifeless skin."

Agatha slipped and slid once, and Nannie gave a frightened exclamation.

"My ovaries are useless," said the girl, carelessly. "I must have another pair. I have a good deal of shopping to do soon."

"Your outfit—" ventured Nannie, and stopped.

She had some news for you," she said with an effort. "I—last night—I promised Mr. Peters—to marry him." Then she sighed as if relieved of a great burden.

The room was still, utterly still.

If Miss Nannie were surprised or shocked she gave no token. She only sat quietly looking at the girl and taking time to collect. Agatha never lifted her eyes until, after some moments, her cousin cleared her throat and tranquilly inquired "Well, dear, are you satisfied that you will be happy?"

Then the girl rose, and threw herself upon the sofa. "Oh, Nannie, I don't know; I can't tell."

More silence. Then Miss Nannie asked if she had told the boy.

To these women George and Lewis would be "the boys" as long as they lived.

"I told George at noon," replied Nannie, "if I can't help it I don't." "You know how proud we are of you, Gath, and we can't be expected to think any man good enough."

"And what did George say?"

"He only said, 'I congratulate Peters.'"

Miss Nannie leaned back in the chair and meditated, bringing Peters up for a mental review. Poor little whilst!

To be sure he had money, some social standing and a fair education.

They had known him a long, long time, and even farther back in sort of distant relatives' affection. They would do anything in the world for him.

"Lewis has been saying such awful things!"

"And are you quite sure you have made no mistake?"

"Quite sure?"

She arose and arranged her toilet; Mr. Peters was to come that evening.

He arrived early. Nannie endeavored to be gracious, but excused herself, leaving Agatha to her lover, the boys having both gone out. And Agatha, with Lewis' cool criticism still ringing in her ears, felt as if in a dream. Fortunately Peters made no inquiries as to her brothers' opinions of the marriage. Miss Nannie had congratulated him as though all was satisfactory.

Agatha accepted his adoration quite passively, and at last when he had gone, retired to her own room to pity him, and tell herself how much she loved him.

But as the winter slipped away the worst, and when it was made known, was silent. By-and-by Nannie could see great tears trembling under the long, dark eyelashes.

"I would not mind," faltered the sufferer, "but for him. Who will love and care for him now?"

Then she asked that he be sent for at once. When he arrived Nannie and the boys were in the room, but they withdrew to the window. Peters' face was as pale as Agatha's own.

"Normal," she said, without a preface, "I am a cripple for life. I need a home again. I want you to give you back your freedom."

"I frightened expression overspread his countenance; his lip quivered, and he sank on his knees by the bed and buried his face.

Meanwhile Agatha was fretting herself to death. A thousand little hearts and glances of ridicule, to which Peters, in his great happiness, was utterly oblivious, were constantly stabbing her. Night after night she was kept awake by the idea of breaking the engagement never once occurring to her. She was sure she loved him, and she realized the depth of his devotion. She endeavored to rise above morbid sensitiveness, telling herself that people would cease their cruel ways when they saw that she was determined to stand by him. But she was a quiet, intense devotion of Nannie Peters was touching the girl.

"I am going at once to tell him," before George comes," said Nannie, rising.

"Yes, do," sighed Agatha. And when her cousin had gone out across the corridor, and her tap had been welcomed by a careless "Come in!" the young girl stole after and listened at the crack of her brother's door.

"Lewis, I have news for you," said Nannie, gently, and there was a hidden sob in her voice.

"Hark!" cried Agatha, "there he is gone—gone into his room."

Nannie recognized the clumsy step, Lewis had never yet come up those steps without tripping at the top; the rushing impetuosity of his boyhood would always cling to him.

"I am going at once to tell him," before George comes," said Nannie, rising.

"Yes, do," sighed Agatha. And when her cousin had gone out across the corridor, and her tap had been welcomed by a careless "Come in!" the young girl stole after and listened at the crack of her brother's door.

"Lewis, I have news for you," said Nannie, gently, and there was a hidden sob in her voice.

"Hark!" cried Agatha, "there he is gone—gone into his room."

Nannie recognized the clumsy step, Lewis had never yet come up those steps without tripping at the top; the rushing impetuosity of his boyhood would always cling to him.

"I am going at once to tell him," before George comes," said Nannie, rising.

"Yes, do," sighed Agatha. And when her cousin had gone out across the corridor, and her tap had been welcomed by a careless "Come in!" the young girl stole after and listened at the crack of her brother's door.

"Lewis, I have news for you," said Nannie, gently, and there was a hidden sob in her voice.

"Hark!" cried Agatha, "there he is gone—gone into his room."

Nannie recognized the clumsy step, Lewis had never yet come up those steps without tripping at the top; the rushing impetuosity of his boyhood would always cling to him.

"I am going at once to tell him," before George comes," said Nannie, rising.

"Yes, do," sighed Agatha. And when her cousin had gone out across the corridor, and her tap had been welcomed by a careless "Come in!" the young girl stole after and listened at the crack of her brother's door.

"Lewis, I have news for you," said Nannie, gently, and there was a hidden sob in her voice.

"Hark!" cried Agatha, "there he is gone—gone into his room."

Nannie recognized the clumsy step, Lewis had never yet come up those steps without tripping at the top; the rushing impetuosity of his boyhood would always cling to him.

"I am going at once to tell him," before George comes," said Nannie, rising.

"Yes, do," sighed Agatha. And when her cousin had gone out across the corridor, and her tap had been welcomed by a careless "Come in!" the young girl stole after and listened at the crack of her brother's door.

"Lewis, I have news for you," said Nannie, gently, and there was a hidden sob in her voice.

"Hark!" cried Agatha, "there he is gone—gone into his room."

Nannie recognized the clumsy step, Lewis had never yet come up those steps without tripping at the top; the rushing impetuosity of his boyhood would always cling to him.

"I am going at once to tell him," before George comes," said Nannie, rising.

"Yes, do," sighed Agatha. And when her cousin had gone out across the corridor, and her tap had been welcomed by a careless "Come in!" the young girl stole after and listened at the crack of her brother's door.

"Lewis, I have news for you," said Nannie, gently, and there was a hidden sob in her voice.

"Hark!" cried Agatha, "there he is gone—gone into his room."

Nannie recognized the clumsy step, Lewis had never yet come up those steps without tripping at the top; the rushing impetuosity of his boyhood would always cling to him.

"I am going at once to tell him," before George comes," said Nannie, rising.

"Yes, do," sighed Agatha. And when her cousin had gone out across the corridor, and her tap had been welcomed by a careless "Come in!" the young girl stole after and listened at the crack of her brother's door.

"Lewis, I have news for you," said Nannie, gently, and there was a hidden sob in her voice.

"Hark!" cried Agatha, "there he is gone—gone into his room."

Nannie recognized the clumsy step, Lewis had never yet come up those steps without tripping at the top; the rushing impetuosity of his boyhood would always cling to him.

"I am going at once to tell him," before George comes," said Nannie, rising.

"Yes, do," sighed Agatha. And when her cousin had gone out across the corridor, and her tap had been welcomed by a careless "Come in!" the young girl stole after and listened at the crack of her brother's door.

"Lewis, I have news for you," said Nannie, gently, and there was a hidden sob in her voice.

"Hark!" cried Agatha, "there he is gone—gone into his room."

Nannie recognized the clumsy step, Lewis had never yet come up those steps without tripping at the top; the rushing impetuosity of his boyhood would always cling to him.

"I am going at once to tell him," before George comes," said Nannie, rising.

"Yes, do," sighed Agatha. And when her cousin had gone out across the corridor, and her

The People's Press.

SALEM, N. C.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1882.

[Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office at Salem, N. C.]

THE PEOPLE'S PRESS FOR 1882. ENLARGED AND IMPROVED.

$1.50 A YEAR.

The Pages entered its thirtieth (30th) volume on November 1, 1882.
Now is the time to subscribe. It will be our endeavor to make the Press more interesting and entertaining than ever.

L. V. & E. T. BLUM,
Salem, N. C., Jan. 1, 1882.

Bennett's majority is now estimated at 43.

In Chattanooga small pox is declared to be epidemic.

The Governor appoints Thursday, November 30th, as thanksgiving day.

The weather is cold and snow fell at Atlanta and Rome, Georgia, Monday.

The New Orleans Times-Democrat says the South will pay the West $100,000,000 less this year for that of 1881.

Within two miles of the town of Troy, Ala., there are over one hundred acres devoted to vineyards, which are in thrifty condition and promise to pay well.

Mr. Henry Liley, one of the most valued citizens of the Cape Fear section, died suddenly, recently, of heart disease, at his home at Fayetteville, aged 75 years.

Gov. Colquitt has been elected to the long term and Gen. Barrow to fill the unexpired term of Gen. Hill in the United States Senate from Georgia.

MACHINISTS IN SUTURE.—Hampton for the Senate, Dem., 91; Winston Fulton, House, Dem., 90; Venable, Sheriff, Dem., 200; Folger, Clerk, Dem., 151; Freeman, Register, Dem., 300; Dobson, Solicitor, Dem., 100; York, Lib., 86; Bennett, Dem., 100; Judges, Dem., 100.

The State canvassing board meets in Raleigh November 30th. The Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney-General, and two members of the State Senate, one of each political party, to be appointed by the Governor, compose the board.

THE NORTH CAROLINA CONGRESSIONAL DELEGATION STANDS: R. T. Bennett, Democrat, from the State at Large; Pool, Republican, 1st District; O'Hara negro Republican, 2d District; Wharton J. Green, Democrat, 3d District; Wm. R. Cox, Democrat, 4th District; A. M. Seales, Democrat, 5th District; Clement Dowd, Democrat, 6th District; Dr. York, Coalitonist, 7th District; R. B. Vance, Democrat, 8th District.

News Summary.
A dangerous counterfeit of the bland silver dollar is being extensively circulated.—A fever epidemic prevails at Providence, R. I., over 2,500 cases are reported.—Gen. Grant has an article in the North American Review on the Fitz John Porter case; the finding of the court martial, he says, was erroneous and a great wrong was done to Gen. Porter.—Six men were killed and eight or ten wounded by a collision on the Alton Railroad, Mo.—A theft of about $30,000 in diamonds has been discovered at the New York Custom House.—Wm. Star Outlines.

According to a list of members elected to the Legislature which is printed in the Raleigh News-Observer, the 17th inst., but which is not given as absolutely correct in all particulars, the parties will stand as follows:

Senate—Democrats, 34; Radicals, 15; Liberal, 1.

House—Democrats, 74; Radicals, 46; Total, 109 Democrats, 62 Radicals (including 1 Liberal).

This makes 46 majority on joint ballot. The figures will be altered but little, if at all, we suppose, in the official returns. The Radical blowers said they would capture the Legislature. This is another instance of the failure of "the best laid plans."—Wm. Star.

DEMOCRAT'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE comes to us with its accustomed regularity, and on examination of the November number, we find that the articles are of a nature to make them highly acceptable to the readers of this popular publication. Mrs. Alexander's serial, "The Admiral's Ward," gains in interest, and the shorter tales are exceedingly well told. "Wanderers in the Heavens," "Winter Resorts in Southern Europe," and Jennie June's "Talks with Women" are worthy of note. There is a variety of very readable articles, some of which are illustrated, on instructive topics, and every department, including the "Fashion," "household," and "Current Topics" is fully and judiciously filled. A handsome oil picture forms the frontispiece, and the art department is further supplied by several pretty engravings.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, }
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }

Gratitude for the many blessings the people of North Carolina have enjoyed during the year now drawing to a close, as well as respect for customs and law, requires that at least one day shall be specially devoted to giving thanks to our heavenly Father, from whom cometh every good and perfect gift.

The crops have been more abundant than ever before harvested in our State. Peace has everywhere prevailed in our borders. The health of the people has been extraordinarily good; while their progress in educational and material interest, and in the cultivation of a high moral and religious sentiment, has been equally satisfactory.

For these and all His other manifold mercies and blessings, I, Thomas J. Jarvis, Governor of North Carolina, do issue this, my Proclamation, setting apart

THURSDAY, NOV. 30TH INST.,

AS A DAY OF THANKSGIVING AND PRAYER, and do earnestly request all the people of North Carolina properly to observe the same. Let the churches and other places of public worship be closed. Let the people rest from their labors and spend the day devoutly, as becomes a thankful Christian people.

On that day let not the poor, the widow and the orphan anywhere be forgotten, remembering that to give to these is to lend to Him from whom all blessings come. Especially let not the Oxford Orphan Asylum be forgotten: the necessities of whose unfortunate inmates I especially command to the generous consideration of a grateful people.

Done at our City of Raleigh, this seventeenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eight years, two, and in the year of American Independence the one-hundred and seventh.

THOMAS J. JARVIS.

By the Governor:
G. L. DUDLEY, Private Secretary.

The Forty-Eighth Congress.

In the Forty-eighth Congress it now appears that the vote will be about as follows if the Virginia Readjusters should go with the Republicans on a division:

States Rep. Dem. Alabama, 8 Arkansas, 5 California, 6 Connecticut, 1 Delaware, 1 Florida, 2 Georgia, 10 Illinois, 11 Indiana, 4 Iowa, 8 Kansas, 7 Kentucky, 2 Louisiana, 1 Massachusetts, 9 Michigan, 5 Minnesota, 1 Mississippi, 1 Missouri, 1 Nebraska, 3 Nevada, 1 New Hampshire, 2 New Jersey, 4 New York, 13 North Carolina, 3 Ohio, 8 Pennsylvania, 16 Rhode Island, 2 South Carolina, 1 Tennessee, 2 Texas, 1 Vermont, 2 Virginia, 5 Wisconsin, 4 Total, 120 196

Robbins and York

Special to Charlotte Observer.

SALISBURY, Nov. 18.—From the full figures now in, it is learned here that York's majority over Robbins in this district is 136, correcting a clerical error of 66 votes in Wilkes county in favor of Robbins. Frauds are charged in Mt. Ulla township, Rowan county, where it is alleged voters were registered on the day of election; in Davie county where York's tickets were printed on blue-tinted paper; in Traphill, Wilkes county, where 53 more votes were cast than names found on the polling-book, and in one precinct in Ashe county, where irregularities occurred.

It is not yet known whether in view of these facts Mr. Robbins will contest or not. He will be governed by his sense of duty to his constituents and will not contest unless he is satisfied that it is his duty to do so.

It may be set down as a fact that if Robbins is declared elected, which is a decided matter by this time, that Dockery will contest, his friends claiming to have discovered sufficient irregularities in Cumberland, Lenoir, Franklin and Edgecombe to change the result as now claimed by the Democrats and elect Dockery. He will initiate his contest before the State canvassing board, and if decided against him he will carry the contest into the next House of Representatives. What the alleged irregularities are they prefer at present not to make known to the public.

CHARS. R. JONES.

Griffin, Ga., has the largest peach orchard in the South, containing 50,000 trees and covering most 600 acres. On the same farm are 4,000 grafted apple trees and 5,000 pear trees.

A large shot tower is to be erected in New Orleans by a local company, who have abundant means and plenty of experience. The tower will be the eleventh in the United States.

The second artesian well at Albany, Ga., in the court-house square, is completed and sends forth a stream of thirty gallons of water per minute.

Nothing builds up shattered constitutions so quickly as Brown's Iron Bitters.

STATE VOTE IN 1880 AND 1882.

By Congressional Districts.

FIRST DISTRICT.

Jar-Bux-Ben-Dock-Halstead, Red.

Beaufort, 1,717, 1,743, 1,680, 1,416

Bertie, 1,188, 1,721, 932, 1,053

Camden, 631, 522, 632, 541

Chowan, 623, 834, 600, 726

Carteret, 928, 326, 183, 221

Dare, 1,009, 518, 872, 524

Hertford, 959, 1,131

Hyde, 799, 592

Martin, 1,386, 1,295, 1,414, 1,310

Pamlico, 584, 386

Pasquotank, 573, 1,020, 703, 1,016

Pitt, 2,048, 1,771, 2,073, 2,054

Tyrrell, 410, 533, 383, 276

Washington, 621, 930, 505, 861

Totals, 14,753, 14,459, 10,663, 11,650

SECOND DISTRICT.

Craven, 1,190, 2,816, 715, 2,211

Edgecombe, 1,723, 3,470, 1,208, 3,048

Greene, 863, 950, 321, 1,058

Halifax, 1,775, 2,424, 1,687, 4,410

Jones, 575, 796, 497, 535

Lenoir, 1,088, 1,370, 1,275, 1,277

Northampton, 1,512, 2,014, 1,197, 2,041

Warren, 1,334, 2,020, 1,975, 2,108

Wilson, 1,573, 1,389, 1,708, 1,295

Totals, 13,983, 20,181, 12,165, 20,404

THIRD DISTRICT.

Bladen, 1,278, 1,530, 1,280, 1,558

Brunswick, 702, 896, 742, 858

Carroll, 982, 705, 643, 667

Columbus, 1,577, 922, 1,430, 1,593

Cumberland, 2,079, 2,162, 2,116, 2,159

Duplin, 1,963, 2,124, 1,803, 1,731

Harnett, 975, 724, 817, 731

Moore, 1,282, 1,341, 1,287, 1,312

New Hanover, 1,259, 2,640, 2,564, 2,607

Pender, 1,035, 1,246, 1,036, 1,230

Sampson, 2,108, 2,638, 2,066, 2,541

Totals, 16,526, 15,313, 16,176, 15,585

FOURTH DISTRICT.

Chatham, 2,159, 1,888, 1,916, 1,619

Durham, 1,158, 1,521, 1,502

Franklin, 2,034, 1,998, 1,905, 1,968

Granville, 2,831, 3,142, 1,824, 2,707

Johnston, 2,063, 1,707, 1,982, 1,717

Nash, 1,553, 1,367

Orange, 2,225, 1,914, 1,150, 988

Wake, 4,280, 4,648, 4,259, 4,673

Vance, 988, 1,482

Totals, 17,148, 16,650, 15,191, 15,409

FIFTH DISTRICT.

Alamance, 1,447, 1,277, 1,285, 1,076

Caswell, 1,446, 1,290, 1,247, 1,622

Davidson, 1,745, 1,887, 1,744, 1,703

Guildford, 2,251, 2,284, 1,985, 1,747

Person, 1,303, 1,103, 1,147, 1,096

Randolph, 1,976, 1,502, 1,946, 1,593

Rockingham, 2,361, 2,052, 1,790, 1,953

Mecklenburg, 3,289, 3,206, 3,277, 2,795

Montgomery, 97, 509, 691, 671

Pender, 2,253, 1,934, 1,354, 1,964

Rutherford, 1,763, 1,796, 1,560, 1,128

Sampson, 97, 419, 2,087, 2,228

Saty, 873, 60

The People's Press.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1882.

LOCAL ITEMS.

—But very little pork has been offered in the market so far.

—Rev. L. B. Wurtschke has taken out naturalization papers.

—Wm. Ebert shucked out about 1,000 bushels of corn Tuesday night.

—R. B. Kerner advertises valuable property for sale, in this paper.

—All the new style Buttons at Mrs. Douthit's.

—W. J. Cooper slaughtered two fine hogs on Monday. 340 and 319 pounds.

—Mrs. Glenn and Miss Mollie Dodge are at Salem Hotel for the winter.

—See advertisements of Salem Cotton Gin, and Executor's notice of T. C. Shultz.

—J. P. Hannah and family occupy the late residence of Joseph H. Stockton, in this place.

—Mrs. Pond and family arrived safely at Fort Ringgold, Texas, after a pleasant journey.

—Internal Revenue collections in the Fifth District for week ending November 18, were $16,349.14.

—Go to FRIES' for your FINE SHOES.

—The net proceeds for the benefit of the Episcopal church, Winston, amounted to about $80.

—Novelties Pen Wipers at Salem Bookstore.

—The Thanksgiving turkey is now being fattened, and its days are numbered.

—A beautiful auroraborealis was visible in the North-east on Monday morning about half-past four o'clock.

—A portion of George Walker's brick kiln fell down, on Saturday, just as he was making preparations to set fire to the kiln.

—Cbas. Fagg drove a pair of fine workmen down street on Tuesday morning. They will probably pull 350 pounds when butchered.

—A beautiful line Ladies' Hose at Mrs. Douthit's.

—Rowan Superior Court next week and the week after, winds up the Fall terms for the Seventh Judicial District.

—Handing a pistol carelessly, came near causing our young friend, R. J. Walker, to have a few fingers less than nature provided him with.

—Rabbits are reported to be very plentiful in the country. They sell nicely effectually new life and constant build remedied over Coalpills one box will the worst case. By Physicians, where, or sent, or made, only 114 Nassau

—We are indebted to the Republican for the copy of tabular statement of the vote in this county, as published last week.

—The protracted meeting at Friedberg commenced on Sunday last. Rev. Dr. Rondthaler preached in the morning. Rev. James E. Hall and others conducted the services in the afternoon.

—All kinds Toilet Soap at Mrs. Douthit's.

—We hardly thought there was any person mean enough to plug the holes in pennies and nickels and then pass them, but there seems to be some persons engaged in such meanness, as our merchants frequently find some of these small coins among their change that have been plugged.

—Dr. Bahson's lot of Jersey cattle have arrived. They are all registered stock, and when matured will be a great benefit to this section. We all recollect the improvement of cattle in town from the Devon stock, years ago, and the prospect is good for a still greater benefit.

—Nice assortment of Ladies' Cloaks at Mrs. Douthit's.

—On November 23d, 24th and 25th, tickets will be sold at Salem depot for the Industrial and Art Exposition, for the benefit of the Monument Fund, to be held at Washington City, in the Capitol, from Nov. 25th to Dec. 3rd. Round trip tickets $13.25 from this place. See posters for further information.

—The largest and most complete assortment of ZEGLER BROTHER'S SHOES ever brought to this market, just received.

—Nothing else of interest, the election prevented the lawyers from getting their cases ready.—Sentinel.

—The largest and most complete assortment of Pinkney Snider raised a sweet potato which weighed 73 pounds.

—The three wagon manufacturers in Waughtown are making about 15 wagons a week.

—A citizen of Davidson County got drunk one night lately and beat a dog to death. If every man who gets drunk were to do likewise, it would be a good thing for sheep.

—Washington Wilson, of this county, selected three sweet potatoes from his crop, which weighed together 18 pounds.

—Persimmons and grapes are plentiful this year; consequently the hunters catch 'possum which they say are unusually fat.

—We are told that in some sections of Yadkin County, many hogs are dying with the cholera, and that bacon can scarcely be found at any price.

—Turnips seem to be scarce this fall. Only a few persons raised any.

—Pigs and shoats are very scarce and sell uncommonly high. People ought to raise more hogs than they do. There is money in it.

—The mast crop this year saves much corn. Many hogs are fat just running in the woods. H. L. B.

—NOTICE.

—All persons are hereby forbidden to hunt with dog, gun or net, or trap any game or birds, or fish in any streams or ponds, or ride, drive, make roads, or trespass in any way whatever, or to cut or remove any timber, on the lands of the undersigned, under penalty of the law.

J. C. PATTERSON,
W. R. SNIDER,
L. EVANS,
ELIAS EVANS,
W. L. SWAIM,
WM. SNIDER.

Nov. 20, 1882.

—A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat

should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. DR. HARTER'S IRON TONIC

—TROCHES do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, slaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Cough, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Slingers and Public ARTISTS' YEAR, a choice book, richly bound, the backs tied with silken skeins, and superbly illustrated. A splendid centre table book.

AMERICAN PROSE and AMERICAN POETS

are twin books of real merit, illustrated with steel portraits.

THE BIRTHDAY BOOKS are neat and substantially bound.

Landscape Poets, DIAMOND POETS,

and numerous other books, making a display seldom seen in this section.

L. V. & E. T. BLUM,

NOTICE.

HAVING duly qualified as Executrix of the last will and testament of C. T. Shultz deceased, all persons indebted to said deceased are requested to make payment of the same to us at once and thereby save the expense of the suit. Those who have not paid the said deceased are hereby notified to present them duly as the law directs within twelve months from the date of this notice or the same will be paid in bar of their recovery this 30th day of November, 1882.

M. A. SCHULZ, Executors
JACOB C. CONRAD, of C. T. Shultz deceased.

Salem Cotton Gin.

SEED COTTON WILL NOW BE RECEIVED AT THE

Gin-House on Shallowford St.,

and the Gin will begin work on or before,

Monday, November 20th, 1882.

Cotton will be ginned on shares, or for cash, and will be paid the seed cotton, or the lint after ginning.

Our facilities for good, speedy work are admirable; our terms reasonable, and square dealing guaranteed.

J. F. SHAFFNER.

Salem N. C., Nov. 13, 1882.

The Safest Way.

The safest and surest way to restore the youthful color of the hair is furnished by Parker's Hair Balsam, which is deservedly popular from its superior cleanliness.

How She Saved Her Darling.

"I shall not feel so nervous again about baby's teething," writes a grateful mother. "We almost lost our darling from cholera infantum but happily heard of Parker's GINGER Tonic in time. A few spoonfuls soon cured baby, and an occasional dose keeps us in good health." —Brooklyn Mother.

A select lot of Olive Wood Ink stands, Paper Knives, Postal Stamp Boxes, &c., just opened at Salem Bookstore.

DIARIES, DIARIES, DIARIES, fine and cheap at Salem Bookstore.

—A kerosene lamp is a dangerous thing to fight with, but such is the kind of weapon one colored woman used to strike another colored woman on the face with, the other day.

Maggie Slater, aged 12 years, daughter of Dolcina Slater, living near Winston, fell in the fire in a fit, last week, causing the death of the same day.

—Trapping for rabbits is now one of the boys' amusements, and a happy look spreads over the boy's face who is lucky enough to find a cotton tail in his trap. The little fellow who drew a large Thomas cat from his trap the other morning, looked any way but happy.

—The old veteran is now near the end, and three near the end.

All good

at this fleet-footed for her, and the last she saw of her turkey it was still pursuing the old fellow who was running up the road like a 240 racehorse, and yelling at every step: "For God's sake, madam, call your gobbler off, he'll bite me."

Next day, whilst the old veteran and his comrades were dining off the turkey, he remarked: "Boys, there's many ways to 'hook' turkeys, but hooking them with a fish hook beats them all."

—Misses' Hose is endless variety at Mrs. Douthit's.

—SUPERIOR COURT.—Court adjourned Monday. The State docket was pretty well cleared of trivial matter. In the civil docket a majority of the cases were continued.

In the case of Matt Fries the jury failed to agree, and a new trial ordered.

Henry Peacock, for assault and battery upon Dr. Hayes, with deadly weapon, was sentenced to 40 days in county jail.

Burt Brooks for killing Caleb Brooks, at the railroad depot, was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary.

Jas. Donathan, for stealing a steer, 3 years in the penitentiary.

Nothing else of interest, the election prevented the lawyers from getting their cases ready.—Sentinel.

—The largest and most complete assortment of Pinkney Snider raised a sweet potato which weighed 73 pounds.

—The three wagon manufacturers in Waughtown are making about 15 wagons a week.

—A citizen of Davidson County got drunk one night lately and beat a dog to death. If every man who gets drunk were to do likewise, it would be a good thing for sheep.

—Washington Wilson, of this county, selected three sweet potatoes from his crop, which weighed together 18 pounds.

—Persimmons and grapes are plentiful this year; consequently the hunters catch 'possum which they say are unusually fat.

—We are told that in some sections of Yadkin County, many hogs are dying with the cholera, and that bacon can scarcely be found at any price.

—Turnips seem to be scarce this fall. Only a few persons raised any.

—Pigs and shoats are very scarce and sell uncommonly high. People ought to raise more hogs than they do. There is money in it.

—The mast crop this year saves much corn. Many hogs are fat just running in the woods. H. L. B.

—NOTICE.

—All persons are hereby forbidden to hunt with dog, gun or net, or trap any game or birds, or fish in any streams or ponds, or ride, drive, make roads, or trespass in any way whatever, or to cut or remove any timber, on the lands of the undersigned, under penalty of the law.

J. C. PATTERSON,
W. R. SNIDER,
L. EVANS,
ELIAS EVANS,
W. L. SWAIM,
WM. SNIDER.

Nov. 20, 1882.

—A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat

should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. DR. HARTER'S IRON TONIC

—TROCHES do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, slaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Cough, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Slingers and Public ARTISTS' YEAR, a choice book, richly bound, the backs tied with silken skeins, and superbly illustrated. A splendid centre table book.

AMERICAN PROSE and AMERICAN POETS

are twin books of real merit, illustrated with steel portraits.

THE BIRTHDAY BOOKS are neat and substantially bound.

Landscape Poets, DIAMOND POETS,

and numerous other books, making a display seldom seen in this section.

L. V. & E. T. BLUM,

NOTICE.

HAVING duly qualified as Executrix of the last will and testament of C. T. Shultz deceased, all persons indebted to said deceased are requested to make payment of the same to us at once and thereby save the expense of the suit. Those who have not paid the said deceased are hereby notified to present them duly as the law directs within twelve months from the date of this notice or the same will be paid in bar of their recovery this 30th day of November, 1882.

M. A. SCHULZ, Executors
JACOB C. CONRAD, of C. T. Shultz deceased.

Salem Cotton Gin.

SEED COTTON WILL NOW BE RECEIVED AT THE

Gin-House on Shallowford St.,

and the Gin will begin work on or before,

Monday, November 20th, 1882.

Cotton will be ginned on shares, or for cash, and will be paid the seed cotton, or the lint after ginning.

Our facilities for good, speedy work are admirable; our terms reasonable, and square dealing guaranteed.

J. F. SHAFFNER.

Salem N. C., Nov. 13, 1882.

The Safest Way.

The safest and surest way to restore the youthful color of the hair is furnished by Parker's Hair Balsam, which is deservedly popular from its superior cleanliness.

How She Saved Her Darling.

"I shall not feel so nervous again about baby's teething," writes a grateful mother. "We almost lost our darling from cholera infantum but happily heard of Parker's GINGER Tonic in time. A few spoonfuls soon cured baby, and an occasional dose keeps us in good health." —Brooklyn Mother.

A select lot of Olive Wood Ink stands, Paper Knives, Postal Stamp Boxes, &c., just opened at Salem Bookstore.

DIARIES, DIARIES, DIARIES, fine and cheap at Salem Bookstore.

—A kerosene lamp is a dangerous thing to fight with, but such is the kind of weapon one colored woman used to strike another colored woman on the face with, the other day.

Maggie Slater, aged 12 years, daughter of Dolcina Slater, living near Winston, fell in the fire in a fit, last week, causing the death of the same day.

—Trapping for rabbits is now one of the boys' amusements, and a happy look spreads over the boy's face who is lucky enough to find a cotton tail in his trap. The

TOP THE LADIES.

News and Notes for Women.
Nineteen women of Douglas, Mass., have asked to be assessed, so as to vote for school committee.

The Chicago school board, by a vote of eight to four, has voted down the proposed rule not to allow its lady teachers to marry while in its service.

The young women at a recent examination at the University of London proved better linguists than men of the same age, but fell short in practical science.

Mrs. Dexter Clapp has been appointed to fill the vacancy in the Board of Regents of the Kansas State Normal school, caused by the death of her husband, General Dexter Clapp.

Miss Calhoun, a young woman from South Carolina, and a grandniece of the statesman, has been studying in London for the past two years, and is shortly to appear on the stage.

Ostavia Hill has undertaken the improvement of lodging houses in London by rebuilding the houses so as to secure light and ventilation for each apartment, and letting them for such sums as will pay a low rate of interest on the investment.

Four of the eight contestants at the recent Illinois annual inter-collegiate oratorical contest at Chicago were young ladies. The first prize, $75, was carried off by Miss Myra Pollard, of the Chicago university. Her subject was "La Marseillaise."

Miss Delia McWharter, formerly an enterprising Iowa milliner, is now farming extensively in Dakota. She homesteaded a quarter section, to which she had added another quarter, making a half section all under the plow. She superintends personally all the work and transacts all the business.

Much interest was shown in a panel by Miss Laura M. Clay on "The Rights of Women." The Committee on Workers' Rights at the woman's congress, Miss Clay is the daughter of Hon. Cassius M. Clay, and with her sister, Mrs. Mary Clay, vindicated her belief in her subject by carrying or the farm which they inherited from their father. They personally superintend all the operations upon it and have been most successful in their undertaking.

Fashion Notes.

Variety is the keynote of fall fashions.

Shades of yellow are as popular as ever.

Neck lingerie is very full and elaborate.

Black Chantilly lace is again in fashion.

Shirring remains a very fashionable trimming.

Fans of fancy feathers are very fashionable.

Small checks and mixtures will be much worn.

Original designs and colors prevail in new goods.

Yellow illuminates many of the new cheviot mixtures.

Fancy feathers and entire birds trim the new fall hats.

New moire ribbons are brought out in shaded effects.

Derby and English turbans never go out of fashion.

Woolen dresses are most tasteful when made very plain.

The inquisitive glove remains the favorite of fashion.

Turkey-red is the fashionable color for velvet dress bonnets.

Birds and bird's heads are much used on hats and bonnets.

Stripes are very little used and plaids are only in favor for skirts of wool dresses.

Thick ruffed silk or ribbed velvet is used for the wide collar of chemisettes and tunic of tulle, silk, muslin and lace.

Brocades are by no means abandoned for dinner dresses, but they now form the draperies and sleeves with plain satin and back on the shoulders.

Black multi-dotted and scalloped with red embroidery is a stylish novelty for kerchiefs that are worn pointed in front and back on the shoulders.

Ivory or cream white lace of large figures, plaited against crimped organza in two full rows, is a new trimming for the neck and sleeves of dresses.

Street toilets are made mostly of cloth, tweed, cashmere and the like. The two models on which a variety of changes are rung are on the basque and polonaise.

For married ladies are the rich and costly brocades, satins and Ottoman silks. For young ladies white wool fabrics handsomely ornamented with lace and embroideries will be fashionable.

Packets of lace and escaller plush are made in triangular form and suspended from the waist by ribbon loops; they are worn with evening dresses, and the plush matches the color of the dress.

All sorts of embroideries are in demand. A favorite garniture on costly fabrics is silk embroidery associated with velvet and plush applique. Chinese embroideries are popular, so are embroideries in which gold and silver threads mingle with silk ones.

The Discovery of Pocahontas.

Kaolin, a hydrated silicate of alumina, is absolutely refractory and opaque; it constitutes the resistant part of porcelain. Feldspars are silicates of alumina and potassium, fusible at a very high temperature into a beautiful transparent glass. If now we mix a quantity of feldspar with kaolin, cover the mixture with a layer of feldspar, and heat the whole at a very high temperature, the feldspar will melt and communicate to the opaque clay a clearness greater or less according to the quantity of it present, and to the superior quality of that beautiful glaze with which it is familiar. A part of the action in this process is chemical, and consists in the production of a new crystalline silicate formed by a combination of the substances present. The discovery of porcelain in China is traced back to a high antiquity. The Chinese have certainly made it regularly for at least a thousand years; many authors fix the discovery at fifteen hundred or eighteen hundred years ago, but there exists no record of this earlier than a thousand years. The first pieces that came to Europe were probably brought by the Venetians at the end of the thirteenth century. Charles VII, king of France, received a present of Chinese porcelains about the middle of the fifteenth century from the sultan of Babylon; but it was not till the sixteenth century that the importation of these Oriental products by Portuguese and Dutch merchants assumed a real importance.

The True Romance of Pocahontas.

From her first meeting with Smith she became devotedly attached to the English, and rendered the settlers many services. She often secured supplies for them, and indeed seems to have haunted the fort, utterly naked as she was. After the manner of little girls among her people, who wore no clothes, and showed no modesty until they were twelve or thirteen years of age, at which time they put on a deer-skin apron, and were very careful not to be seen without it. The agile little barbarian would ride like wheels of themselves by running upon their hands and feet, whereupon she would follow them, which as they did, all through the fort.

Her real name was Matoaka; but, by order of Powhatan, this was carefully concealed from the whites, lest by their supernatural enchantments they should render her some harm. When Richard Weymouth was sent from Jamestown to apprise the endangered Captain Smith, environed by foes among Powhatan's people, of the death of his deputy, Mr. Scrivenor, and his ten companions, by drowning, Pocahontas hid him, directed those who sought him, and, by extraordinary bribes and maneuvers, brought him safely to Smith after three days' travel in the midst of extreme difficulties. She also won Captain Smith to apprise him of the treacherous plot to burn the fort, and sent him to the Potowmac. But the most touching story of all precedes in order of time the other two. In the same difficult adventure among Powhatan's people, in which Captain Smith was engaged when Scrivenor was drowned, the treacherous chief had arranged to surprise Smith at supper, and cut off the white party, when Pocahontas, the "dearest jewel" and "brightest diamond" of the aged chief, "in that dark night" came through the risksome woods to warn the English of Powhatan's design. Captain Smith offered to repay her kindness with such trinkets as the heart of an Indian maiden delighted in; "but, with the tears running down her cheeks, she said she durst not be seen to have any, for, if Powhatan should know it, she were but dead; and so she ran away by herself as she came."

In 1613 Pocahontas was among the Potowmac Indians. Captain Argall, a man of much shrewdness and executive force, but infamous for his dishonest practices, happened to be trading in the river at that time. He quickly saw the advantage the English would gain in negotiations with Powhatan, and the opportunity presented itself to him to make a good fortune. So he sent his wife to him to Spilman, who was then living with Powhatan, and sent him to the Potowmac. But the most touching story of all precedes in order of time the other two. In the same difficult adventure among Powhatan's people, in which Captain Smith was engaged when Scrivenor was drowned, the treacherous chief had arranged to surprise Smith at supper, and cut off the white party, when Pocahontas, the "dearest jewel" and "brightest diamond" of the aged chief, "in that dark night" came through the risksome woods to warn the English of Powhatan's design. Captain Smith offered to repay her kindness with such trinkets as the heart of an Indian maiden delighted in; "but, with the tears running down her cheeks, she said she durst not be seen to have any, for, if Powhatan should know it, she were but dead; and so she ran away by herself as she came."

Sunflower seed given to a horse at each morning and night feed will keep him in good spirits and give his hair a sleek appearance. So says the National Farmer.

A gallon of milk is said to have a food value equal to two pounds of beef. But farmers sell milk for ten or twelve cents a gallon, and buy beef at twenty-five and thirty cents per pound.

A badly worn or broken-down farm implement of any kind is a bad investment. The loss of time from stoppage when work should be hurried is usually more expensive than the money cost of repairs.

J. W. Sanborn, of New Hampshire, finds as the uniform result of many trials that coarse feeds and grain make a more economical fodder than good hay, and he therefore recommends the cultivation of an increased area in good crops.

Do not forget to give charcoal liberally to hogs. When pigs are confined to corncribs they are apt to suffer from disordered stomach, which is relieved by charcoal. An occasional handful of wood ashes and sulphur will also be found beneficial.

Store a quantity of road dust in a sack, and dash both for the poultry in winter. It is absolutely necessary to their health, cleansing their skin and feathers from vermin and impurities. Powdered sulphur mixed with the dust will also aid in keeping them from freezing.

Quite a novel way of keeping ants from getting into a house is to scatter three stamps for Part VII. of Dime Series pamphlets. Address Wento's DISHESARY ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

MILWAUKEE claims to have the largest brewery in the country and the second largest in the world. The Milwaukee brewery turns out 800 barrels of beer per annum.

Bad tamps often prove from those painful disorders to which women are subject. In female complaints Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Favored Prescription" is a certain cure.

The regular place the number of sheep in the State at 7,000,000, and estimate the wool crop of the present year to be worth $6,500,000.

HOTEL FOR SALE IN ST. LOUIS.

A splendidly furnished and thoroughly equipped Hotel, recently located, and doing a magnificent business. Will sell all or a half interest. Main object being to get a good man to run the hotel. Apply for information to C. A. GRIFFITH, Elm St., St. Louis, Mo.

SKYLIN MED. REINFORCER restores health, vigor, strength, and complexion. Send sample. Dr. DRUGGARD, Seneca Falls, N. Y.

QUEEN-TOE is an excellent remedy for consumption. It cures consumption, and prevents the night sweats and fits. It is a safe medicine, and may be used in any case of consumption. It is not an incurable malady.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. A trifling dose of this will cure consumption.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.

DRUGGARD'S GARGLING OIL. This Old standard article, under the admirable management of John Hodge, is now sold at a trifling price, and will take up a cold and sore throat.